

INTRO TO UNMANNED AIRCRAFT SYSTEMS AT-153

SPRING
•
2018

AT 153 is an introductory course to understanding the functions, characteristics, regulations, and applications of unmanned aerial systems and vehicles. The course includes detailed coverage of unmanned aerial systems and their uses in military, commercial, civil, and public settings. Lecture 3 hours

Wednesdays

1:40 – 4:50 pm

Room AT-232

Prof. Tony Byrnes
abyrnes@glendale.edu

