Course Description and Course Note:	CHLDV 180 provides a semester teaching experience in an infant/toddler setting. The teacher candidate, under the supervision of a cooperating teacher and a college supervisor, assumes complete responsibility for the instruction of children. The course provides opportunities for practical application of skills and knowledge previously gained in the classes specified in the infant/toddler and child development curriculum. Field experience provides the teacher candidate the opportunity to participate in classroom activities, design and teach a developmentally appropriate focus under the guidance of the supervising/mentor teacher, assess themselves as a prospective teacher, and participate in seminar discussions. Setting up an intentional environment with developmentally appropriate routines and transitions will be emphasized.

Learning Outcomes and Objectives

Course Objectives

Apply information obtained in CHLDV 141 seminars to experiences in the infant/toddler classroom.

Demonstrate knowledge of children's varied approaches to learning as evidenced by developmentally, culturally and linguistically appropriate curriculum planning and implementation.

Organize information gained from current research on best practices in early care and education to develop a curriculum focus with instructional goals and key concepts that reflect the interests and needs of the children enrolled in the classroom.

Organize physical space and materials to support health, safety and positive learning experiences for all children enrolled.

Accurately assess the effectiveness of curriculum plans and methods to make appropriate modifications to support children at different developmental levels and those with special needs.

SLOs

Apply a variety of effective approaches, strategies and techniques supporting positive relationships with children and adults.
