

APPLYING FOR WINTER/SPRING 2024 ADMISSION?

Did you know that some UCs typically accept winter/spring transfers? It's true! Merced accepts spring transfers (since they're on the semester system), and Riverside and Santa Cruz accept winter transfers (since they're on the quarter system). Please note that while these campuses are open for admission, some majors may be "closed," or unavailable. To see which majors are open for these campuses, you can visit UC's Check Majors website. Make sure to select "Junior Transfer" as the applicant level. The application filing period is July 1-31, 2023.

In addition to the UCs, various CSUs may also be open for spring admission. To check which campuses will be accepting applications for Spring 2024, and for which majors, visit CSU's Application Dates & Deadlines website beginning August 1. Make sure to select "Upper-Division Transfer" for the entry level. The application filing period is August 1-31, 2023.

Even more options! There are many private and out-of-state colleges/universities that also accept spring transfers. Curious to see which ones? Here's just some of the local private institutions that are open for spring admission:

- Woodbury University
- Loyola Marymount University
- Mount Saint Mary's University
- Pepperdine University
- University of La Verne

For more information, visit the individual campus websites and schedule an appointment with a transfer counselor in August.
