

Research Across the Curriculum (RAC) Presents

Spring Colloquium 2010

- Theme: Information Competency (IC): building blocks throughout the curriculum
- Get practical tools for infusing your courses with IC components
- Collaborate with faculty across disciplines
- Increase student success by promoting critical thinking, and life-long learning skills
- Add IC to your courses' list of core competencies
- Get FLEX credit

Colloquium participants will:

- Participate in eight to ten hours of meetings during the Spring semester
- Revise an assignment and present an innovative strategy for it that you will develop during the colloquium
- Accept a $100.00 voucher which can be used to purchase books, teaching materials, or in partial payment of a professional development program.
- Complete a short exit survey

to be scheduled based on participants' availability

Consider signing up with a colleague from your department/division.

RAC Spring 2010 Colloquium Application Form

To apply, please complete and return this form to Nancy Getty's mailbox by Friday, February 19, 2010. Twelve applicants will be accepted into this year's colloquium. Please feel free to send questions to RAC coordinator, Nancy Getty, ngetty@glendale.edu.

Name: _____ Division: _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Courses Generally Taught: _____

Briefly, please explain why you would like to participate in this colloquium.

This colloquium is generously sponsored by the GCC Faculty Center for Teaching & Learning.