Course Description and Course Note:	MUSIC 120H traces the evolution of music over the past 1500 years, with a special emphasis on understanding how to listen for greater enjoyment. Students learn about specific composers and works, families and subgroups of musical instruments, and the basic elements of music, such as form and structure. Students are required to attend at least one classical concert and submit a written report. Note: Music majors should enroll in MUSIC 125 and 126. The honors course will be enhanced in one or more of the following ways: 1. Students will take essay exams that require analysis of music; 2. Students may read and analyze primary source materials regarding aspects of music history; 3. Students may be required to write a research paper on a topic relevant to the content of the course. This paper must be correctly cited and referenced; 4. Students will attend a concert of music and write an analysis on the works performed.
