

Did you know:

- GCC serves an average of 1200 students with (diagnosed) disabilities per year.
- An estimated 10% of college students nationally have some kind of disability.

Do you know:

How to talk to a student you suspect has a disability?
What it feels like to have a learning disability?

If you are interested in the information above, you are invited to join an interactive workshop about our disabled student population.

Joy Cook, Associate Dean of GCC's Center for Students with Disabilities, will lead the workshop, where she will use a variety of interactive tools, including role playing, to help faculty and staff better understand and interact with our disabled students. Everyone welcome.

Date: Tuesday, November 9

Time: 3:00-4:00PM

Location: AD 223

Contact: Francien Rohrbacher (froh@glendale.edu)

No reservation necessary.

Flex credit will be given to attendees.

This workshop is sponsored by the Faculty Center for Learning and Teaching:
